Welcome to Mississippi

Governor Phil Bryant and First Lady Deborah Bryant

Congratulations on discovering golf in Mississippi!

Now that you have the official guide to golf in Mississippi, we invite you to set your expectations high as you plan your trip here. We are certain you are well on your way to experiencing one of the last unspoiled golf destinations in America.

The variety of courses is truly outstanding. With more than 140 golf courses all across our state and a climate perfect for year-round play, you are sure to find fun and challenging locations to choose from.

Whether you are coming for a week or just a weekend, you can always find a new favorite course to play, and you will also enjoy incredible dining, shopping and historical attractions, spas, music and non-stop entertainment. Mississippi has something for everyone.

We are looking forward to seeing you very soon on one of our world-class golf courses. While you are here, make plans to experience everything else Mississippi has to offer, too. You will be glad you did, and we are honored you have chosen Mississippi for your next round of golf.

Sincerely,

Governor Phil Bryant

Golf MISSISSIPPI

Mississippi strikes an intriguing balance for today's golfer—with first class courses that are both technically challenging and fun to play, yet also affordable and easily accessible. As avid golfers strive to find more value-laden trips, Mississippi golf continues to climb the list of those searching for quality and fun on the links.

Fun times off the course are also a specialty in Mississippi. Casino resorts, sprinkled throughout the state, provide high energy entertainment; music trails boast of the state's musical heritage; many waterways provide boating and fishing opportunities; and restaurants serve up a variety of experiences, from fine-dining to family style meals.

With a temperate climate that offers near perfect golf weather year round, Mississippi can accommodate the needs and budgets of all kinds of golf groups. Over 140 courses dot the landscape of the Magnolia State and come designed by some of the most prominent names in golf—Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Jerry Pate, Tom Fazio, Davis Love III and Bob Cupp, just to name a few. This ensures that Mississippi offers something for the casual player and professional alike. And in fact, Mississippi hosts two professional events - the PGA TOUR's Sanderson Farms Championship at the Country Club of Jackson each fall and the Champions Tour's Mississippi Gulf Resort Classic at the Beau Rivage's Fallen Oak in Biloxi each spring. Plus amateur golfers get the royal treatment at highly organized Golf & Blues Events. The dates and locations can be found on VisitMississippi.org.

A NOTE ABOUT THE REGIONS

Five distinct regions offer Mississippi golf courses designed to fit the natural lay of the land. They are the Delta Region, birthplace of the Blues and comprised of wide-open flatlands; the Hills Region, featuring gently rolling landscapes; the Capital/River Region with its winding waterways and rich history; the Pines Region in the Central-East part of the state and blanketed with quiet forests; and the Coastal Region, boasting the Gulf of Mexico's sparkling water and beaches. Each region is color-coded within the pages of this guide for ease of use.

A NOTE ABOUT THE LISTINGS

All public, semi-private, military, resort and private golf courses are listed within their respective regions. Lodging and golf package listings are from participating properties. They are just a small sampling of all the great golf vacations in Mississippi. All published rates and packages in this guide are subject to change, may vary and restrictions may apply. Call each property for the most current information. The "Golfers' Picks" section provides a small sample of dining, entertainment and non-golfing options by region. We invite visiting golfers to email us their favorites to be included next year at tinquiry@mississippi.org.

Hills REGION

The Ole Miss Golf Course, Oxford

The foothills of the Appalachians reach into the northeast corner of Mississippi and create the highest elevations in the state in the Hills Region. The rolling countryside creates on-course challenges and the beautiful vistas provide a scenic backdrop, making the golf courses in the region as unique as the topography. The area is also singular in its contribution to the explosive growth of rock 'n' roll as a musical genre, being the home of Mississippi's most famous musical legend, Elvis Presley.

For your dining entertainment, choose delicious barbecue at Coleman's in Hernando, meat and three at Orleans Bistro in Grenada or the state's best fried catfish at Taylor Grocery in Oxford. Your experience will always come with a serving of good ol' Southern hospitality.

The most northern of Mississippi counties, DeSoto County boasts four championship golf courses, which packaged together with local hotels create an affordable golf vacation with lots of variety. The city of Olive Branch is the home to three of these courses, beginning with Cherokee Valley. The course features wide fairways and large Champion Bermuda greens, but it's the 11 lakes and 78 bunkers which provide the intimidation factor. Plantation Golf Club, located nearby, also features friendly, open fairways and oversized Champion Bermuda greens, but again strategically placed mounds and lots of water make for a challenging tract. Wedgewood Golf Club is an 18-hole championship layout situated on rolling, scenic terrain and featuring demanding water hazards on ten holes.

Rounding out the DeSoto County golf selections is North Creek Golf Club in Southaven. Grassy mounds, large undulating greens, and strategic dogleg fairways create a real test, but the most unique feature of the course is the signature double green for holes 13 and 15, with a cart path tunnel running underneath.

The Dogwoods at Hugh White State Park, Grenada

Hills REGION

A short distance southeast of DeSoto County is the challenging Kirkwood National Golf Club. This beautiful course displays dramatic changes in elevation and wooded valleys, with numerous creeks and lakes running throughout. Lush Bermuda fairways and rough line each heavily wooded hole, and gorgeous Champion Bermuda greens await your approach. Fully furnished, four bedroom cottages are available at Kirkwood, offering first class accommodations on the golf course.

Located in scenic John W. Kyle State Park in Sardis, a bit south of DeSoto County just off Interstate 55, is Mallard Pointe. Designed by renowned architect Bob Cupp, the course offers lots of drama, like elevated tee shots to narrow fairways. Pinpoint precision is required to reach many of the well-protected greens. Golf packages are available in fully furnished golf villas located next to the golf course.

The Dogwoods Golf Course at Hugh

White State Park is located just off Interstate 55 in Grenada. When the course opened, it was named the 5th "best new affordable course" in the country by Golf

North Creek Golf Course, Southaven

Digest. And it's ranked in the top ten of Golf Digest's "Best in State." The signature hole here is the par-5, 9th hole. Perched high above the fairway and with an incredible view of Grenada Lake, the tee shot is as beautiful as it is intimidating. Cabins at the park, plus area hotels, make Grenada a perfect place to stay and play.

The Ole Miss Golf Course in Oxford has an exciting 7,000 yard layout and features state-of-the-art practice facilities. The new fairway bunkers, greens, and collection areas make the already challenging course into a great modern golf course for golfers of all skill levels to enjoy.

The Hills Region of Mississippi boasts some of the states most scenic and challenging layouts. It's also a great value destination for groups. The moderate climate, the many top-quality golf courses, and its close proximity to the Midwest make the Hills Region one of Mississippi's most popular golfing destinations.

In the Hills Region, you'll discover fine dining in a college town, a variety of dining choices in the larger cities and down-home cooking throughout. Plus your meal will always come with a serving of good ol' Southern hospitality.

Delta REGION

River Bend Links Golf Course, Tunica Resorts

The Mississippi Delta Region is remarkably flat and contains some of the most fertile soil in the world, as evidenced by the verdant green fairways of its exciting golf courses. It was also fertile ground for the cultivation of America's only indigenous art form, as the "Birthplace of the Blues." And although most of the golf and high-energy entertainment is centered around Tunica, just south is the state's blues mecca in the small town of Clarksdale. It's the home of the historic Delta Blues Museum, Morgan Freeman's famous Ground Zero Blues Club and many Mississippi Blues Trail markers.

A new wave of entertainment has transformed the Tunica area into one of the top entertainment venues in the country. The glitz and glitter of casino gaming has given a new generation of music lovers yet another reason to visit. Tunica's eight casinos offer a vast assortment of gaming options including over 300 table games and more than 12,000 slots. If all that wasn't enough, two truly top-notch golf courses in Tunica add yet another reason to pack your bags and head to The Delta region of Mississippi. They are Tunica National, a Mark McCumber design, featuring rolling terrain, wide fairways, generous greens and unspoiled natural surroundings, and River Bend Links, Clyde Johnston's self described "field of dunes."

The Mississippi Delta is small river towns, juke joints, exciting casino gaming, championship golf and unmatched Southern hospitality, all at a great value and an easy drive from Southern and Midwestern states.

• The Delta was also fertile ground for the
• cultivation of America's only indigenous art

Capital/River REGION

Mississippi's Capital/River Region is a study in contrasts, consisting of the state's largest metropolis, Jackson, and small, historic river towns, such as Natchez and Vicksburg. Golf layouts range from wide, open flatlands to tight, water-laden fairways. The region's musical legacy is as diverse as its golf, with blues, rock 'n' roll and jazz flourishing here.

Jackson played an important roll in the development of Mississippi's musical contributions with several record companies based here in the 1950's. The metro area plays host to some of the top players on the PGA TOUR each fall at the Sanderson Farms Championship. It's played at the Country Club of Jackson.

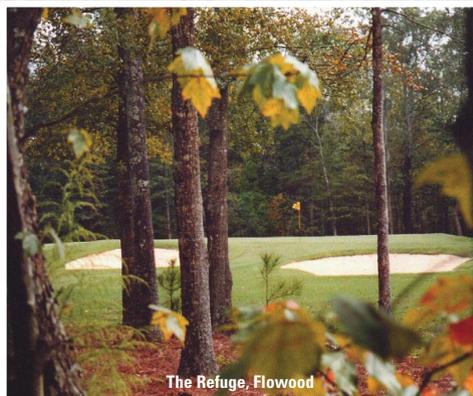

The Refuge, a strategic 18-hole championship course measures 6,635 yards from the tips. It's located close to the Jackson-Evers International Airport, so a round before takeoff can be a great ending to any visit to the capital city.

Rolling terrain, large undulating greens, and gorgeous scenery are found at Quail Hollow at Percy Quin State Park, located an hour south of Jackson in McComb. Quail Hollow was designed by well-known architect Arthur Hills and has been consistently rated a prestigious 4 stars by Golf Digest's Places to Play. Golf villas are available at the state park, providing modern amenities and a convenient place to stay next to the golf course.

Natchez is home to two exciting courses. Beau Pré Country Club is situated on the banks of Second Creek and features a 90-foot clay bluff and rolling terrain; and Duncan Park, a traditional style course built near the historic downtown in 1928, boasts huge oak trees dripping with Spanish moss.

History abounds in the Capital/River Region. Yet plantation homes, which survived the Civil War, Blues Trail sites, and the historic state capitol are coupled with modern, distinctive accommodations and challenging golf courses to create the best of the new South.

The region's musical legacy is as diverse as its golf, with blues, rock 'n' roll and jazz flourishing here.

Pines REGION

Mississippi's Pines Region is a soothing blend of rolling countryside, towering hardwoods and trickling streams. Visitors to the region will find many museums to explore, waterways and nature trails to traverse, and historic landmarks to examine. For dining delights, choices range from fine dining and casino buffets to old-fashioned drive-ins and pub fare. But it's the golf that's truly enticing.

Old Waverly Golf Club in West Point combines the essence of the Scottish Highlands with a graceful Old South setting. The course is ranked second in the state by Golf Digest and it's currently number 35 on Golf Digest's "100 Greatest Public Courses" in the country. Designed by former U.S. Open champion Jerry Pate and Bob Cupp, Old Waverly hosted the 1999 U.S. Women's Open and the 2014 ISPS Handa Cup, pitting the LPGA Legends Tour players from the U.S. against those from around the world. Built on gently rolling terrain, the course is highlighted by the signature 18th hole, a 445-yard par-4 dogleg left with water along the left side.

Three dining options help take the sting out of a tough day on the course. And although Old Waverly is a private country club, on-site golf cottages offer the visitor this unique stay and play package.

The two courses at Dancing Rabbit, the Azaleas and the Oaks, along with the two casinos, several restaurants, three hotels and unique clubhouse lodging of Pearl River Resort, were built on the ancestral lands of the Mississippi Band of Choctaw Indians. Each of the 36 holes at Dancing Rabbit bears the distinctive touch of course architects Tom Fazio and Jerry Pate. Both courses have received abundant praise from golfers and raters alike over the years. The Azaleas is currently ranked fifth on Golf Digest's top venues in Mississippi. It's ranked second best in the state by GOLF Magazine, while The Oaks is ranked fourth.

Mississippi State University Golf Club, located in Starkville, is ranked among the top 30 collegiate golf courses in the country. The layout features gently rolling hills, tree-lined fairways, many strategically placed bunkers, and water on nine holes.

Along with boasting some of the most exciting and challenging golf courses in Mississippi, the Pines Region offers many sightseeing opportunities that include musical history, big city entertainment and an awesome casino resort.

The region boasts some of the highest rated courses in Mississippi and is home to unique resort experiences.

Coastal REGION

Shell Landing Golf Club, Gautier

The Coastal Region is an eclectic mix of award-winning golf, exciting musical entertainment, intriguing history, and stunning scenery. The historic districts of Hattiesburg and Laurel showcase charming Victorian and turn-of-the-century mansions. And along the Gulf of Mexico in the Biloxi area lies a chain of glitzy casino resorts, exciting music venues, beachfront hotels and condos, and one-of-a-kind restaurants.

No visit to the Mississippi Gulf Coast is complete without a trip to Mary Mahoney's in Biloxi for their gumbo or mini soft-shell crab appetizer. If barbecue is your idea of hog heaven, The Shed is just for you. The subject of a Food Network series, The Shed serves mouth-watering ribs, succulent chicken, and choice beef.

The region beckons professional golfers by hosting an annual stop on the Champions Tour. The Mississippi Gulf Resort Classic is played each spring at Fallen Oak. Additionally, the Coastal Region will host amateur golfers at the 2015

Mississippi Golf & Blues event, a golf tournament and music festival.

The Mississippi Gulf Coast is home to both the state's best collection of golf courses and most luxurious casino resorts. Currently eleven casinos are open with more on the way. And with the addition of a couple of world-class golf courses by two of the hottest designers in the game, Tom Fazio and Jerry Pate, the golf offerings in the Coastal Region are second-to-none.

Tom Fazio's contribution is Fallen Oak Golf Club. Built by MGM-Mirage as an added amenity solely for guests of Biloxi's

Fallen Oak has recently been named "the second best new upscale course" by Golf Digest; "one of the top 10 new courses you can play" by GOLF Magazine; Golfweek's "best course you can play" in the state; and Golfweek's 2nd "best casino course" in the country.

Beau Rivage Casino Resort, the course features dramatic bunkers and undulating greens, and it offers surprising changes in elevation for a coastal course.

Jerry Pate's only coastal design in Mississippi is The Preserve, the home course of Palace Casino Resort. The course has been granted membership into the prestigious Audubon International Signature Program and it's ranked in the top ten of Golf Digest's "best in state."

The name-dropping continues at The Bridges Golf Club at Hollywood Casino in Bay St. Louis. It's Mississippi's only Arnold Palmer Signature golf course and ranked among the "top 50 casino courses in the country" by Golfweek. Designed by Jack Nicklaus for Harrah's Casino, Grand Bear is located north of Gulfport and is known for its strategic routing and unspoiled setting within the Desoto National Forest.

Not to be left out of the fun, Davis Love III contributed Shell Landing to the Mississippi "Golf Coast" selections. Located east of Biloxi, it was named the 5th "best new upscale course" in America by Golf Digest upon opening and it's now the 3rd "best public access course" in the state according to Golfweek.

In the western part of the coastline, Diamondhead Country Club features two distinct courses, the Pines and the Cardinal. The scenic beauty and Southern hospitality found here make the demanding layouts a pleasure to play. And in Pass Christian, the Oaks Golf Club was designed by Landmark National of PGA West and Kiawah fame. Its layout is highlighted by strategic bunkering, demanding greens, and a circuitous routing that creates a challenging, yet serene experience.

casino, Island View in Gulfport, is a true gem on the Mississippi coast, being named one of the state's top courses by GolfWeek.

And then there are the two exciting historic courses in the region. Great Southern in Gulfport was built in 1908 by Donald Ross and has recently been renovated and Gulf Hills, east of Biloxi has been an integral part of the golfing landscape on the coast since 1927. Both have hosted a vast array of dignitaries and infamous people over the years.

An hour north of the Mississippi coastline is the college town of Hattiesburg. It has become a real foody town of late, thanks to restaurant owner and chef, Robert St. John. He's become well known for his creative expressions, both in the kitchen and through the written word. His local restaurants speak for themselves. For golfers visiting the area, Timberton Golf Club is a must play.

Thrilling casino action and many renowned golf courses come together along Mississippi's unforgettable Gulf Coast to offer more than just a great golf vacation. Combined with moderate annual temperatures, a variety of lodging options, historical attractions, exciting restaurants, and musical outlets to enliven the senses, the region is unlike any other golf destination in the country. With non-stop air service continuously being added into the newly improved Gulfport/Biloxi International Airport, the Mississippi Gulf Coast is more accessible than ever.

Golfers' Picks Entertainment/Dining

Join the thousands of golfers who accept the challenge of more than 140 incredible courses in Mississippi, many with exciting layouts designed by the game's legends. Take advantage of the uncrowded atmosphere, affordable packages, and superb accommodations. Enjoy the spectacular scenery. And be sure to live the local life after the 18th... from world-class casinos and fine dining to historic inns and good old Southern cooking... from music's roots and live entertainment to museums and charter fishing or boating. It's all in Mississippi for your enjoyment.

As the "Birthplace of America's Music," Mississippi's musical landscape is much like the golf scene. It's exciting and varied and reflects regional influences. The creation of the Mississippi Blues Trail a few years ago began the story and with the addition of the Country Music Trail the picture is becoming clearer. Mississippi has been instrumental in, not only the birth, but also the growth and popularity of musical genres such as blues, country and, of course, rock and roll, thanks to its most famous musical son, Elvis Presley.

And these musical styles are truly American-made. The song lyrics boast of our history and the beats and rhythms reflect our diverse heritage.

The Mississippi Blues Trail takes visitors on a musical journey through the state to sites honoring B.B. King, Muddy Waters, Son House and more. Much like the Mississippi Blues Trail, which now features over 180 markers, the Mississippi Country Music Trail celebrates Mississippi's rich heritage of country music legends and chart toppers, such as "The Father of Country Music," Jimmie Rodgers, Marty Stuart, Charley Pride, Conway Twitty and Faith Hill.

Live music can be sampled almost every night of the week at a variety of locations throughout the state, such as Hal and Mal's in Jackson, Ground Zero Blues Club in Clarksdale, Proud Larry's in Oxford, and Hard Rock Casino in Biloxi.

As one of the largest casino destinations in the country, Mississippi offers gaming excitement throughout the state. Celebrity entertainers, gourmet dining, luxury accommodations and spas turn Mississippi's casino resorts into memorable, fun-filled vacations, conventions and reunions. With easy access to golf courses, waterways and shopping, you can check into a single casino hotel and enjoy a diverse and fun-filled getaway.

Beyond the music and entertainment in Mississippi, there's the food. The state's cuisine defies categorization. And, in some cases, it defies imagination. From catfish to Comeback sauce, from tamales to traditional Southern sweets, from shrimp to slugburgers to sweet potatoes, Mississippi's culinary heritage has food to please every palate. The Magnolia State is home to James Beard award-winning chefs and noted national food writers, as well as some of the best home cooks and out-of-the-way diners to be found anywhere.

Food and entertainment are a big part of the draw to Mississippi. And although visitors may initially come for the great golf, they come back for the taste of our southern cuisine, the glamour of our world-class casinos, and the intrigue of our deep, musical roots. Well, that and to play another round, of course.
